

The first freeze of the fall season occurred on October 30, 2011...

Low temperatures fell to 27-32F in every county in central North Carolina on the morning of Sunday October 30, 2011. Typically, the first fall freeze in central North Carolina occurs between October 21 and October 31.

24 Hour Minimum Temperatures Ending October 30, 2011 8 AM EDT

The following map shows the average date of the first fall freeze

